NEWS NOTES.

BLINDFOLD. A woman and she loses all confidence in herself. Her step is slow, hesitating and uncertain. Her hands are raised to ward the imaginary blows which threaten her. When a sick woman seeks the means of health she is often like a woman blindfold. She has no confidence. She cannot tell what her effort will lead to. She turns now to this side and then to the other in uncertainty and doubt.

The sick woman who uses Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription may do so with absolute confidence. It invites open-eyed investigation. There need be no hesitation in following the hundreds of thousands of women who have found a perfect cure for womanly ills in the use of this medicine.

"Favorite Prescription" cures irregularity and dries weakening drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"With a heart full of gratitude to you for sending out over the land your wonderful medicine I send these few lines, hoping that some poor suffering woman may try Dr. Pierce's medicine. Mrs. Cura L. Root, of Greenpring Furnace, Washington Co., Maryland, "I had suffered severely from female weakness and had to be in bed a great deal of the time. Had headache, backache and aches all over. I had been taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and had not taken two bottles when I was able to be around again and do my work with but little pain. Can now eat anything I want it to. It cures me and more. Have taken seven bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and one of his Compound Extract of Smart-Weed and several vials of his Pleasant Pellets." Feeling better every day. My husband says I look better every day."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

KINGSVILLE.

Business continues dull. A distressing drought is imminent. John Dye's condition is improved. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Chevallote, a boy.

Rev. Davidson, of Ellisburg, filled his appointment at the Baptist church Sunday.

School began here Monday and Miss Lena Griffin, who made a decided success the last session, is again teaching.

Miss Fannie Davidson, of Ellisburg, was the guest of her cousin, Miss Gertrude Davidson over Sunday. Mr. D. P. Dineen came up from Somerset and took his little son home with him. Mr. Holmes, a very pleasant traveling salesman of Louisville, was here.

Eld. H. K. Berry, of Henderson, arrived Tuesday and will visit various members of his congregation and will preach Sunday morning and evening. Eld. Berry will also preach the funeral of W. T. Murphy, who died last Friday and was buried in the Presbyterian burying ground. Rev. Davidson conducted the exercises at the church and grave. Mr. Will King lead in prayer meeting Sunday evening. His subject was "Love."

Dr. B. F. Walter, of Lancaster, is the guest of his brother, G. A. Walter. Robert Adams, a traveling salesman of Lexington, was here a few days ago. Jess Walter, of Stanford, was the guest of G. A. Walter. W. L. McCarty has returned from a business trip to Lexington. D. B. Flint has returned from Lexington and Frankfort where he had gone on business. Wm. Carey, wife and son have returned to their home at Lebanon Junction after a visit to their relatives there. Mrs. Emma Chevallote and daughter, Miss Ella, are contemplating a visit to relatives at Huntington, W. Va. John Reynolds left a few days ago for Arkansas. Rumor has it that a fair one of this section will soon join Mr. Reynolds there, when a marriage will take place. Fred Burgess, of Louisville, is the guest of his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Peairs and other relatives here. S. C. Carter, erstwhile station agent here, but who has held a similar position in Frankfort for the past few years, was the guest of his grandmother. Mr. Carter left Monday for St. Charles, Mo., where he has accepted a position with the M. K. & T. road. He is an exemplary young man, bright and capable. The writer, who was a former school mate, together with his other friends here, wishes him success. Miss Sallie Shelton, of Rowland, was the guest of Mrs. Peairs and Mrs. John McKee. Jess D. Wearen, of Stanford, was here Tuesday.

A GOOD REPUTATION.

"The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you desire to appear." That is precisely the manner in which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained its reputation as a cure for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Every bottle that has ever been put out by the manufacturers has been fully up to the high standard of excellence claimed for it. People have found that it can always be depended upon for the relief and cure of these ailments and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Druggists.

Gold has been found in Lyon county.

The Chicago freight handlers' strike came to an end with a complete victory for the railroads. The vote to return to work was almost unanimous, the wage scale and other questions being left for settlement between the men and their respective roads. The estimated cost of the strike to the business men of Chicago is $10,000,000.

China, through two of its Viceroys, has appealed to the United States, through Secretary Hay, to intervene in the payment of the Boxer indemnity to the foreign Powers. The question is whether it shall be paid in gold or silver, and as some nations are insisting that it be paid in gold, it is asserted that this is an impossibility on account of the impoverished condition of the government's treasury and the people.

Cut this out and take it to Craig & Hocker's Drug Store and get a box of Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets. The best physic. They also correct disorders of the stomach. Price 25 cents.

A postoffice has been established at Swifton, Wayne county, with John H. Twyford postmaster.

Monte Combest has been appointed postmaster at Teddy, Casey county; vice M. E. Combest deceased.

W. W. Inman, of Somerset, has succeeded Harry Rooks as agent for the Adams Express Co. at Danville.

Judge M. C. Saufley decided in favor of the water company at Harrodsburg. The amount involved for rentals was over $10,000.

The trustees of Caldwell College have announced the intention of the board to erect this summer an additional building for the institution, which will cost in the neighborhood of $16,000.

J. R. Robinson, aged 30, is under arrest at Mt. Vernon, charged with attempted criminal assault on Miss Susie Milburn, aged 16, at Livingston. Robinson claims to be a son of Alfred Robinson, a Berea merchant.

A committee of Danville business men, by invitation of H. B. Spencer, of the Southern railway, left yesterday for St. Louis for a conference in regard to the extension of the Southern from Harrodsburg to Danville.

That Harrodsburg boy who, endeavoring to eat four dozen bananas, threw the sponge after eating 26 ought to be a magician. Surely there is a field for boys who can swallow bananas and throw up sponges, facetiously remarks the Louisville Times.

Charley Murry, aged three years, was saved from drowning in Powell river near Middlesboro by a Newfoundland dog. The child was playing on the bank and in some way tumbled over, falling about 20 feet in the stream. The dog seized the boy's dress and bore him out safely.

The Monticello Courier says: "Silsas Bell, Jr., was found dead in Rock Creek. He had taken off his clothes, which were left on the bank, presumably to get staves out of the water. There are suspicions that he was murdered, as he had a wound upon his head and another upon the arm, and tracks were discovered on the bank of the creek."

Sheriff Ben T. Hines and Deputy Sheriff W. R. Elwood, of Pulaski, delivered to Jailer Fitzgerald, of Danville, a Negro named Charley Bogle, charged with killing a daughter of Joe Owens. The officers had an exciting time getting the prisoner out of town, as the citizens were wrought up and a body of them heavily armed attempted to shoot the prisoner as the train was pulling out of the station.

The following is sent from Columbia: Bert Lloyd, a young man residing near Breeding, this county, became desperately in love with a young lady of the same neighborhood. He pushed his suit, but the young woman failed to reciprocate his affections and he procured a revolver and started to her home. Before he got there he fired the revolver at himself in an attempt to commit suicide. The ball entered his breast, but it is not thought he is fatally injured.

Arrangements are being made to rebuild College Home, the oldest of the buildings of Centre College, in order to install the Central University Law School in it next fall. The entire north wing will be devoted to the use of the law school, the first floor being fitted up for a large recitation room, while the second floor, in which the Chamberlain Literary Society held its meetings for a long period before the war, will be used for a library and moot court room. A portion of Breckinridge Hall, in which the dormitory is located, will be used for the department of mechanical drawing, which will be newly installed in Centre College next year.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS.

An editorial in the last issue of the Danville Advocate on the general subject of primary elections merits thoughtful and intelligent consideration. The temper of it is admirable. It is vigorously written, and the expression is lucid. The INTERIOR JOURNAL concurs with it in all respects and commends it to the democracy of the State as the most incisively written article on this subject which has yet come to its notice. We quote an extract:

"Nor can it be said that the primary has ever been disappointing. On the contrary, it has practically demonstrated the fact that it is the choice of the party by strengthening and uniting it on the nominees. The same can not be said to have always been strictly true of conventions. Sometimes they leave the party a compact organization and sometimes they do not. Occasional fights, which have been developed on the convention floor, are carried before the people who are at one and the same time called on to support the nominee and to listen to complaints of injustice and unfairness from those who from past records, at least, seem to merit a hearing."

Unhappily there is much truth in this extract. All people ought to learn by experience. All people do learn by experience, some more and some less, exactly as they learn in varying degree at any other school. There is no method yet devised to ascertain the will of masses of people which is perfect either from a legal, political or moral standpoint. Irregularities and rascallities will creep in despite vigilant effort and honest purpose to keep them out. This is perhaps often due to the unscrupulousness of manipulators rather than the fault of the system. But what the people need to have is that system which affords the least opportunity to commit frauds and rascallities. Beside this, in a government where the people are sovereigns they should give to themselves the fullest, fairest and easiest methods and opportunities to make known their sovereign will. It is almost ridiculous to suppose that in court-house conventions, called to assemble at a specifically named hour and minute, the masses of any political party have the chance or opportunity to be heard. The voter who lives from five to a dozen miles away has no showing with the inhabitants of the county seat. Even in precinct conventions much injustice may be and often is done the voter even when the convention is conducted strictly according to the call of the governing committee. This precinct convention is always called for a certain definitely fixed hour—say at 2 o'clock P. M. Exactly at that minute the chairman calls the meeting to order and proceeds to take the vote. Those who live close to the voting place, or those who have the fastest horses, or those whose wives get their dinners for them earliest have the advantage of the voter who lives more remote, or whose horse is a little slow, or whose wife burdened with household affairs may be unlucky about the dinner hour. People in the country do not have that exact standard of time of the people living at the county seat. The latter regulate their time by the town clock and all are in accord. Country people all have clocks and watches, but because of different brands of time-keepers, very few of them are in accord. The chairman of the convention will have his standard and the voter of the precinct another, and the clock of each one of those voters may differ from the clock of his neighbor. Thus it is that confusion arises and dissatisfaction results. The voter goes to the convention, but finds that for no fault of his own he is disfranchised. He can't vote. In general elections the law gives him practically a whole day, and furnishes him a voting place as near his home as is practicable. Let us have the primary by all means. It is not the trickster's convention; it is the people's convention. It is not the clique's general assembly; it is the grand conclave of the mighty sovereigns."

THE sale of the Lexington Morning Democrat at public auction, announced for yesterday, did not take place. By agreement between the contending stockholders, the sale was put off until a later date, the motion for a receiver was withdrawn, and an amicable adjustment of the differences was reached. The sale of the paper at auction, what Editor W. P. Walton wanted all the time, will be made in a few weeks.

THERE is no doubt about the policy and the principles of the democrats. The democratic policy is against the trusts and for tariff reform and for Philippine freedom. If the people really want these reforms they will vote the democratic ticket. All political indications point to democratic victory in the fall elections and in 1904. "You can't fool all the people all the time." The republicans have reached the limit.

IT begins to look like the State officers for election next year will be nominated by a primary. If so the honor and the glory will belong to Editor James M. Richardson, of the Glasgow Times. The plan works admirably in a number of Southern States and it is the fairest method for nomination yet devised.

IN September, 1896, David B. Hill wrote to a friend: "I was a democrat before the Chicago convention, and I am a democrat still—very still." Mr. Bryan holds this statement up to the public and it will doubtless operate against the New Yorker.

WHEN the Congress of the United States voted to pay $7,000,000 to Russia for the barren waste of Alaska no one expected that there would be any financial return on the money invested. The purchase was made as an expression of friendship for the only power which had been favorably disposed toward the union States throughout the civil war. For years the great waste lay idle. No man thought it worth while to explore its barren and frozen valleys. When the news of the discovery of gold reached the Pacific coast of the United States the world was astonished. Now it is learned that south of Kenai two great coal fields have been found. Their value to the country will be double that of the gold fields if the reports of their extent and the quantity of the coal have not been wonderfully exaggerated. The last numbers of the Engineering magazine and the National Geographical magazine have articles on the subject. In the Engineering magazine Mr. Harrington Emerson ascribes Great Britain's maritime supremacy to her coal mines. Even if the Atlantic remains for years dominated by British shipping the time is not far off when the United States is reaping the reward of its demonstration of friendship over 30 years ago in paying Russia what seemed a large price for supposedly worthless territory.

SENATOR TILLMAN has registered a vow that he will oppose his colleague's appointment to the United States court claims bench on the floor of the Senate and says that he will not confine his opposition to secret sessions, but that he intends to say in open Senate and say plainly why his colleague should not be confirmed as a judge. Mr. Tillman intends to place on record all the allegations that have been made, charging Senator McLaurin with betraying his party, and in addition his own personal criticism and his own reasons for denying Mr. McLaurin's confirmation for a lifelong position. The threat has awakened the president to the gravity of the sensation and it is said that he is casting about for some position outside the judiciary, for Mr. Tillman has told his friends that he would not carry his opposition to an appointment that was not to the bench. It is to be hoped that Tillman will not weary in his efforts.

THERE are now 15 republican representatives from States usually included in the South. Some of these States have made changes in their voting laws since the general election of 1900, but the expectation among the members of the republican Congressional committee is that while the republican representation from Maryland, now six (a solid delegation) will be reduced to three, and perhaps one district will be lost in Kentucky, these losses will be made up by republican gains in Missouri, but it seems they are reckoning these without their hosts. There is every indication that the democrats will control the next Congress. The people are going to see to it, even if the Louisville Post, a "democratic newspaper," does not think it will be a catastrophe.

REMEMBER

That so-called cheap insurance is the dearest thing on earth.

That a dollar saved in the premium may cost you a hundred in a loss.

That only solid cash, in sight, and experienced management guarantee sure indemnity.

That insurance in the Home, of

New York, can be relied on.

LOCALS.

MUTH's bread at Farris & Co.'s.

SUMMER in earnest is again with us.

CRAB ORCHARD fair July 23, 24 and 25.

SEE our new $27 range. Cheapest thing ever put on the market. Warming closet; plenty hot water. Geo. H. Farris & Co.

THE depot is indeed a thing of beauty now. Painted inside and out it is as clean as a new pin and as pretty as a girl of sweet 16.

THE colored people of Hustonville will have a three-days' fair beginning Wednesday Aug. 20. They will use the grounds of the white association.

COL J. P. CHANDLER tells us that he has been chosen ring marshal of the Hustonville fair. It would have been hard to find a better man for the job.

M. SNYDER & SON have moved their stock of goods to Louisville. They did fairly well during their stay here, but the manager, Charley Snyder, became dissatisfied.

THE members of the W. C. T. U. are requested to meet in the lecture room of the Christian church at 4 p. m. Wednesday, 23rd. Important business is to be transacted.

PEACHES.—Early last week Ex-Mayor William Daugherty enjoyed luscious peaches from his own orchard. He certainly does head the list in this section as a raiser of early peaches.

MARSHAL RIDDLE, of Crab Orchard, passed through to Douglas county, Illinois, Wednesday after Boyd Blanton, charged with killing a man named Burkhardt in Harlan county two years ago.

HORTON.—J. D. Horton, aged 28, died of typhoid fever near Kingsville Tuesday after an illness of three weeks. A wife and several children survive. Mr. Horton was a good citizen and a strict member of the Christian church.

MORRIS FRED received Tuesday from his parents at Nonogradwolensk, Russia, a box of linens, etc., that he greatly appreciates. Most of the work was done by his aged mother and that makes them all the more treasured by him.

WEDNESDAY was the time for the regular annual meeting of the Cumberland Valley Land Co. The old board was re-elected by the stockholders, but owing to the fact that a quorum of the directors was not present, no business was transacted.

6 TO 0.—The vote on the issuance of $6,000 worth of bonds for the erection of a graded school building Wednesday resulted in a vote of 66 for, to nothing against. Now that the mooted question is settled let's buckle down to business and forget all unpleasantness of the past.

DIED OF HER BURNS.—Mary Eliza Anderson, colored, who fell with a lamp at Mr. T. L. Carpenter's in the West End, some 10 days ago and was fearfully burned by the explosion that followed, died Wednesday night after intense sufferings. Both Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter sustained severe burns while trying to extinguish the flames.

The West End will be represented by a majority of its population at Crab Orchard next week.

MISS ROSE and Marguerite McCormack entertained the young society people very delightfully at their home near town Wednesday evening.

Miss Myrtle Drye, of Bradfordsville, Mrs. Thomas and Mr. Burkwin and wife, of Cincinnati, are with Miss Minnie Dinwiddie. Miss Miller, of Boyle, is with Miss Josie Goode.

THE Crab Orchard fair begins next Wednesday, 23rd, and it promises to be a success from every standpoint. Stock will be there from many counties and the prospects for large crowds daily are most flattering. Excursion trains will be run from Jelico, Middlesboro and Winchester and reduced rates will be given from all points on the L. & N. Go and have a good time and at the same time help a laudable county enterprise along.

DANVILLE.—A. B. Robertson & Bro. are preparing to install in their store a system of Barr's cash and parcel carriers, an improvement that is being generally adopted by all up to date stores. It will be installed about the first of next week. Ten young ladies, representing as many different towns, have entered the vocal contest to be given at the opera house next Tuesday night. Mrs. Richard Foley, who has been in the millinery business in Danville for many years, has sold her store to Miss Minnie Eastham. Some confusion has arisen with regard to the dates of the two fairs in Danville this year. The white fair will be held August 6, 7 and 8. Chenault Hugely threshed a crop of 10 acres of rye, which averaged 31 bushels to the acre.—Advocate.

J. C. Bonta sold to B. F. Saunders 1431-pound cattle at 61c. W. C. Terhune bought 50 yearling mules at $55.

—Harrordsburg Democrat.

William Parrish is in jail at Knoxville, charged with beating his wife to death.

W. A. Owings, of Danville, was kicked and severely hurt by a horse.

One hundred and fifty cases of small-pox are reported at Stonega, Va.

John Anderson, who murdered his wife, was lynched at Owensboro.

NEW wash goods. Severance & Sons.

HUSTONVILLE FAIR July 30, 31 and Aug. 1.

PURE pickling vinegar. John Bright, Jr., & Co.

Go to Mrs. Cleo Brown's where you can get your Summer millinery at cost.

SEE our stoves and ranges before you buy. Terms easy. George H. Farris & Co.

NEW cutting hats and other pretty and stylish millinery just in. Mrs. Garland Singleton.

LADIES.—Remember on Monday and Tuesday, July 21st and 22d, I will show a beautiful line of Duck, Linen and Felt Outing hats. Mrs. Cleo Brown.

A NUMBER of young people from Stanford were guests at a swell 6 o'clock dinner given by Miss Jean Warren, at "Warrenwood," near Danville.

WITH 10 rings and four races each day, the patrons of the Crab Orchard fair, which begins next Wednesday, are not likely to want for something to interest them.

THE Cumberland Valley Land Co. has sold for $500 an option on 10,000 to 15,000 acres of its Harlan county land, at $12 per acre to a syndicate. Examination of titles and surveying will begin at once.

SOME 20 or more couples were charmingly entertained Tuesday evening by Misses Katherine and Sara Baughman at their handsome country home. At the proper hour a delightful lunch was served, which was greatly enjoyed by those who were fortunate enough to be present.

NOTICE.—It has been the aim of the Central Ky. Real Estate Exchange to secure options on that class of property where the owner is exceedingly anxious to sell or is forced to sell and thereby secure a low price on same and hold out some inducement to buyers. Read their list carefully and see the bargains offered.

MINE HOST J. B. WILLIS, of Crab Orchard Springs, has issued a handsome four-page folder setting out the advantages of his model Summer resort. Some splendid cuts appear in the well gotten up advertisement. Miss Sacray, Stanford's excellent photographer, made the pictures from which the cuts were taken.

THE attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of the two splendid farms to be sold at auction by George S. Shelby next Thursday, July 24, at 2:30 P. M. Both places will be sold on the smaller farm, known as Beech Point, near the Knob Lick bridge, two miles South of Shelby City, on the Hustonville pike.

Prospective buyers are invited to look at both places when they desire and take dinner with me at the Tribble House, Junction City, on the day of sale. I will also sell at the same time 100 acres of growing corn and rent 100 acres of good grass for remainder of year. T. D. English will be auctioneer. The Beech Point farm contains 198 acres and the Hubble farm 336. Will also sell the toll-gate house of six rooms adjoining smaller farm. It has one acre of land. Remember both places will be sold at 2:30 Thursday afternoon next at the smaller farm. George S. Shelby.

HUBLE.

Tilford Messer has bought him a new hay baler.

A. R. Moore will fill his pulpit at the Christian church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Keeton's Sulphur Well, recently bored, is becoming very popular in this community, as the water is good, free and plentiful.

The ladies of the Christian church have contracted for the papering and roof painting of their church to be done next week.

George Wood is feeding a lot of hogs on barley and they seem to be doing nicely. He sold some fat hogs for himself and L. G. Hubble at 7c.

Tom McLan and Silas Calise, with their families, are visiting in Lexington. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tewmy were here a few days last week with their parents.

C. C. Withers sold some oats at $10 per ton delivered in Stanford. Dr. Hickie sold his bay horse for $75. John Robinson lost a good mule from overheat last week.

Miss Flossie Hammonds is with relatives in Somerset for a few days. J. C. Eubanks cut his front finger right badly on a grass sickle. H. C. Taylor is at work at his trade in Danville with Samuel Harding.

L. C. King sold the remainder of his old corn to Lancaster parties at $3.25 at the crib. Garrett Woods has contracted to bale a great deal of the hay crop in this community at once. G. A. Swinebroad has sold some of his crop at 50c delivered, in Danville.

James McKeachie's father, from Wayne, is visiting him for a few days. Miss Isa Rankin will teach our public school this Fall. Dr. Hickie will teach at Crab Orchard. We are glad to note that Mrs. E. T. Minor is at home from Joseph Price Infirmary, doing nicely, after treatment by Dr. J. G. Carpenter. Ed Minor has taken his teams to Emencence
